INTRODUCTION

This directory has been compiled to facilitate the public, and in particular the Greater Manchester Jewish Community, in accessing the appropriate support for children and young adults with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND).

All information has been included with the permission of the service providers and verified as up to date in July 2021. Inclusion in the Directory does not imply that JSENSE recommends the services included but is designed to share what is available.

JSENSE recommends that when considering use of the services in this directory users check with providers that they have the training and experience to meet the needs and expectations of the user. All individual therapist entries include the registration and professional qualifications as relevant, but we recommend that users check registration is still current for practice.

Each of these organisations have standards to which members must adhere and are helpful in assessing a provider's expertise and professional standards such as whether they are receiving professional supervision and are qualified to deliver their service. To enable users to understand the technical terminology a glossary of terms is included on page 7-8. Within the directory we have included guidelines outlining some service pathways, which we have explained in our explanatory table which lists which services you can access depending on certain criteria, on page 7.

We have endeavored to include eligibility for services, where relevant, according to where a child lives and goes to school and recognise that this can be a complex area. We have focused on the areas where the bulk of the Greater Manchester Jewish population reside.

We would appreciate your feedback.

Best wishes
The JSENSE Team

HOW TO USE THE DIRECTORY

This directory has been compiled to demonstrate the services that you are entitled to use, which we have called “Statutory Services”.

These are services available through your local authority (council) or NHS, and the eligibility criteria for these depend on either your school, GP or where you live, depending which service you are hoping to access. We have also tried to plot this out in an explanatory table on page 7. This mapping directory also has a search facility so you can search for a person or term without having to read through the whole document. Please use this at your convenience.

About JSENSE

JSENSE is a Manchester based Jewish Charity formed in 2013 to address the Special Educational Needs & Disabilities (SEND) of children and young people across the breadth of Manchester's diverse Jewish community.

JSENSE believes passionately that every child and young person with special educational needs (SEND) deserves the best possible specialised help to maximise their Individual Educational Achievements to acquire the necessary life skills which other young people learn naturally.

JSENSE services has been specially developed to be culturally and religiously appropriate, working across the breadth of the Jewish community to promote an understanding of SEND, promoting the needs of the child as paramount.

JSENSE merged with the former parent group JADDS in February 2019, whilst the newly merged charity will continue to be known as JSENSE, this will build on the previous success of the individual charities.

“Society is increasingly turning to charities to provide and deliver key services and amenities, with an expectation that these services will be delivered in a well organised, effective and accountable way.”

Charity Commission

JSENSE provides ongoing free, impartial and confidential support via phone, email and face to face meetings to Greater Manchester Jewish Community. JSENSE listens to the needs of Parents/Carers and Siblings of Children and Young People with SEND and where a need for a service is identified we will always endeavour to meet that need.

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

About:

Speech and language therapy (SLT) is a specialist service that can help support your child's speech, language and communication development, by working with you as their parents or guardian. SLT does not provide an instant fix for a child's difficulty but helps to find ways of supporting development and positive change. We will provide you with activities and strategies to do at home in between appointments. SLT is more successful when these are carried out regularly with an adult at home or in school. We offer specialist information and advice to give you the skills and confidence to successfully support your child's needs for the future.

What happens next:

Once your child's referral has been accepted you will be sent a letter within the next 18 weeks asking you to ring us and book an initial appointment. Your child will then be offered an initial assessment appointment which will last between 30 minutes and an hour. The speech and language therapist will assess your child's speech, language and communication skills using a range of toys and pictures. They will discuss their findings with you along with your own views of your child's abilities and difficulties. These will be used to decide the next steps, which could include onward referral or discharge as appropriate.

How to access:

Referral through the following ways is accepted:

Self referral / GP referral / Health professional / Social Care Professional / School / Early Years providers (nursery/children's centres).

BURY EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY SERVICE (EPS)

Open: Monday – Friday 9am – 5pm

3 Knowsley Place
Duke Street Bury
BL9 0EJ

0161 253 6406

edpsych@bury.gov.uk

About:

Educational Psychologists work in partnership with families, schools, settings and other professionals to achieve positive outcomes for children and young people aged 0-25 years where there are potential barriers to learning. Sometimes a school or nursery or college setting might ask an Educational Psychologist to become involved to support children and young people who have needs in any of the following areas:

Play and/ learning;

Speech and language (communication); Social interaction (social skills);

Emotional development/mental health needs;

Physical (fine/gross motor, medical conditions);

Sensory needs (hearing, vision, sensory sensitivities).

Educational Psychologists (often known as EPs) aim to help others meet children and young people's needs in an informed and inclusive manner. We usually work through cycles of Assess-Plan-Do-Review.

What is the role of an Educational Psychologist in the Education, Health, and Care Needs Assessment?

If a child or young person has significant difficulty with learning and/ or social and emotional development, they may require an Education, Health, and Care Needs Assessment. Educational schools and settings can make a formal request to the local authority and demonstrate the action they have taken through the child or young person's individual support plans (parents/carers can also make a request, but it is usually completed by the school or setting). If the local authority agrees to the Assessment, then the EP (Educational Psychologist) will be requested to provide information and advice, alongside other professionals such as Speech and Language Therapists, Community Paediatricians and Social Care to help the local authority decide whether an Education Health and Care Plan (EHCP) is required. When providing their advice, the EP will consider what psychological assessment information is already available about the child or young person and then decide whether additional psychological information is needed, so as not to duplicate or repeat work already completed. As detailed in How educational psychologists support children and young people with SEND, EPs use a range of Assessment approaches and work in collaboration with parents/carers, setting staff and other professionals.

Area eligibility:

Only Bury. Currently we are not commissioning traded work and are almost exclusively focused on casework linked to Statutory Assessment.

How to access:

Parent/young person can only access via a referral from schools and from the SEN Team.

School/teacher can make a referral for a case that has been discussed at one of the SEMH Partnerships or a case raised at one of the SENDCo Consultation meetings. Cases referred are then allocated to LA Services at fortnightly Panel meetings.

We do not take referrals directly from parents or from children/young people themselves. Currently, we do not charge for our service if cases are referred via the mechanisms outlined above.

Other information:

Covid-19 Helpline: Bury EPS recognise the current situation with COVID-19 is a very worrying time for parents and carers who have children or young people with Special Educational Needs and/or Disability (SEND).

The service is for children and young people with acute or developmental conditions and/or lifelong disabilities.

About:

The Health Visiting and School Nursing teams provide a 0 – 19 health service for all children that reside or are educated in Salford. The 0 – 19 teams contain a mix of qualified Health Visitors, School Nurses, Staff Nurses, Nursery Nurses and school health assistants.

The 0-19 team can give you and your child confidential help, advice and support on many of the physical and emotional issues you or your child may encounter throughout their school life, from early issues such as feeding and bedwetting to adolescent issues such as emotional issues, smoking and alcohol.

We also offer complete health and development reviews, give childhood injections (as part of the national immunisation programme) and we will weigh your child as part of the government's national child measurement programme (NCMP) in Reception and year.

6. We also provide drop in sessions at secondary schools. This is to enable us to give support to young people around physical and emotional issues. School nurses can see your child at school - most high schools have weekly school nurse drop-in sessions which are advertised within the school. Alternatively, you can make an appointment to bring your child to one of our clinics, or we can come to your house. The 0-19 Service also holds a register of all children with SEND and each child has a named nurse as a point of contact. The service is unsure that we have captured all the children in independent schools with SEND and this affects our ability to support these families should they wish to access the service. If you'd like to find out more about school nurses, you can phone the school health advisor for your area.

Area eligibility:

Children attending Salford schools only, irrespective of home address. However, the school must be an academy or maintained school. There is provision to offer support to those children attending independent schools and those that are home schooled.

How to access:

Parent/young person can self-refer, we will also see children that have been referred to the service from other agencies once we have consent.

School/Teacher can use the school nurse referral form or phone the relevant area contact. If a child in an independent school wants to access the school nursing service for any reason, we will accept a referral via school or self-referral. Independent schools and the children that attend these schools need to be made aware of this service.

Other information:

Can self-refer or other agencies can refer on their behalf. All School Nurses are trained in Mental Health first aid.

The 0-19 service endeavours to provide an equitable service to all children who live in or attend a Salford School whether this is a state or independent school.

Historically, East Central have found it difficult to gain access, acceptance and the ability to promote our service to the Jewish community.

How to access:

As a service we accept referrals from a variety of agencies or professionals, and this will depend upon the needs of the child. The majority of our referrals come from schools, when they realise that a child may have additional needs and there is a need for additional external support. Referrals may come from other professionals; audiologists, ophthalmologists, education psychologists or paediatricians. For children with a visual or hearing impairment, support is available as early the impairment is identified, even from birth. For other areas of need, support is available from when a child starts school, either in a school Nursery class or from reception. Links to referrals and other downloadable documents can be found using the link below.

SALFORD SENSORY IMPAIRMENT TEAM

Moorside High School,
57 Deans Road, Swinton, Salford,
M27 0AP

0161 607 1671

About:

The Sensory Impairment Team works closely with families, educational settings and colleagues in health and social care to ensure that children and young people with sensory impairments can achieve success, educationally, socially and emotionally. Educational support for sensory impaired young people has two strands: The hearing impairment team and the visual impairment team. Where children are multi-sensory impaired, professionals from both teams work jointly to ensure the individual needs of the child and family are met.

The Sensory Impairment Team is made up of teachers for the hearing impaired (HI), teachers for the visually impaired (VI), HI and VI teaching assistants, mobility officers (VI), ICT resource technician (VI) and a part-time audiology technician (HI). Members of the Sensory Team all have additional qualifications and experience in working with sensory impaired children and young people. The Team provides specialist support and advice to children, families, nurseries, schools and colleges.

We work with children and young people in Salford age 0-25 years who have a medical diagnosis of sensory impairment, hearing impairment, visual impairment, multi-sensory impairment, including those children with complex needs. Following a referral, the needs of the child are assessed by an HI or VI teacher. Decisions on type and level of advice and support are guided by Nat SIP (National Sensory Impairment Partnership) eligibility criteria, in conjunction with professional judgment. If the child's needs could better met by another agency, the family or school will be signposted elsewhere. Education, health and social care colleagues closely work together and all of the child's needs will be assessed. This may lead to the writing of an Education Health and Care Plan, which will be monitored closely against agreed outcomes.

Service is centrally funded and as such predominantly aimed at maintained schools and settings. Commissioned support for independent and post-16 settings is also available

Area eligibility:

Resident in Salford or attending a Salford school.

How to access:

Referrals usually come from a medical practitioner, following confirmation of a sensory impairment, although referrals may be made by other agencies.

SPEECH AND LANGUAGE THERAPY SERVICE (SLT SERVICE)

7th floor, St. James's House,
Pendleton Way, Salford,
M6 5FW

0161 206 2382

saltadmin@srft.nhs.uk

About:

The range of speech and language problems covered are:

- Feeding and swallowing difficulties
- Poor understanding of language
- Delayed or disordered expressive language
- Immature or disordered speech sound system
- Voice disorders, e.g. hoarse or squeaky voice
- Dysfluent speech, e.g. stammering
- Poor social communication skills, e.g. lack of eye contact, limited interaction, poor conversational turn-taking
- Drooling or dribbling not caused by ear, nose and throat problems
- Structural and articulation disorders, e.g. Cleft palate
- Supporting the use of communication aids
- High-level language difficulties including inferencing and narrative skills

Intervention can take an indirect form of therapy e.g. giving advice and/or programmes or environmental modification, interventions can be direct in groups or on a 1:1 basis. It is essential that the family and setting supports the child or young person with the activities as prescribed by the SLT. This is the best way to achieve positive outcomes.

The service is available for:

Newborn babies, children and young people with feeding or swallowing difficulties. Pre-school children who have difficulties with development of communication, speech, language and feeding.

School aged children who have language and communication difficulties, which their education and/or social development.

Children and young people with disabilities up to the age of 19 years. Children who stammer or who have voice problems, children with severe social communication difficulties, practitioners and families who want to know the best way to support children with communication difficulties. English as an additional language (EAL): children should not be referred to SLT before exposure to English in a setting for at least 1 year unless they have significant language difficulties identified in their first or home language. If a child's language is in line with learning and there is nothing additional an SLT can offer, you can access a resource pack on general language stimulation to help you to support the child's needs.

Please visit the website www.speakupsalford.nhs.uk to access these materials.

How to access:

There is an expectation that before a Request for Support (referral) is made, there is evidence of what steps families and nurseries/schools have taken to support the child (Requests for Support (referral) from Speech and Language Therapy). Early referral of a child's speech and language difficulties is essential because they may affect other areas of their development, e.g. learning, social and emotional. Sometimes children do not need SLT support, as support from other staff is sufficient to help. This should be tried before a referral to SLT. If a young person feels that they need a referral there are a number of ways this can be done: If you want to refer yourself please find the appropriate forms on the Speak Up Salford website www.speakupsalford.nhs.uk. It is important you fill the whole form in. The more information you provide the easier it is for the SLT to understand the nature and extent of your or your child's difficulties

For very young children, HealthVisitors will carry out something called the ASQ (ages and stages questionnaire). If it is identified that your child has speech, language and/or communication needs, a more in depth investigation will take place using a tool called WELCOME. This will identify any areas of difficulties as it will compare your child to a population of other British children. If there are significant concerns the HV (Health Visitor) will refer your child. If you have concerns for an older school child, please talk to your school's SENCO. Other professionals like the HV or your child's teacher may be able to give you some initial advice, reassurance and help should a referral be necessary.

There will be a consent and contact information form sent to you once we've received your referral form. Please make sure you complete these and return as soon as possible. If you want to discuss your child with a Speech and Language Therapist to see if a referral is appropriate, please call the referral helpline on 07715 811080 (between 1 and 4pm any Wednesday afternoon).

E-mail speakup.salford@srft.nhs.uk and we will arrange for a member of the team to contact you. If your child is at school, it is important that you first discuss your concerns with your child's class teacher or the school's Special Needs Coordinator (SENCO). If you then want them to refer your child, the school will need to download a referral form. The school must complete the relevant sections of the referral form. If you are unsure as to the appropriateness of a referral, please ring the referral helpline number on 07715 811080 (available between 1 and 4pm on Wednesday afternoons).

E-mail speakup.salford@srft.nhs.uk and a member of the team will get back to you to discuss it first.

School/teacher - no child should be referred without school having had an in-depth discussion with the parents / carers about the child's difficulties and schools' concerns. Parental consent is essential. A teacher can fill in a referral, but it must be signed by the SENCO as the referrer. This will ensure consistency and good communication and will also allow the SENCO to gain a clear picture of the numbers of children being referred from your school. SLT requires a clear demonstration on the referral form of strategies which you have previously employed to support the child with their speech, language and communication needs + a statement about the child's progress using these strategies.

The SLT service offers annual training for newly qualified teachers and TA's on how to support children with SLCN in the classroom.

Area Eligibility:

To access our services, you must live in Salford or have a Salford GP. Sometimes special arrangements are made for children who go to school in Salford but have a GP from elsewhere.

If you are concerned about your child's progress, arrange a meeting with the teacher or SEN Coordinator (SENCO) at your school or setting. Agree an action plan using the Assess, Plan, Do, Review (APDR) process. This is a cycle which helps parents, teachers and SENCOs decide outcomes and monitor the support according to your child's needs.

If this does not work, you can apply for an EHC Needs Assessment. If we decide to start an EHC Needs Assessment, you will be allocated an EHC Coordinator. This is a named person who will support and guide you through the process. The assessment is not one single test. It is a series of discussions, observations and assessments by you and the professionals involved. It takes about 12 weeks.

All the information is then submitted to the Moderation and Resource (MAR) group. This group looks at all the information submitted and considers if your child has needs that should be met by an EHC Plan. We must let you know by week 16 if an EHC Plan will be issued or not. If a plan is issued, the MAR group also considers what support the plan should provide and any funding allocated to provide it.

About:

T'Mimei Lev/Yismach Lev is an independent Jewish school for special needs pupils that caters for children from reception age through to the age of 25, allowing young adults with special needs within the community to further their education. We aim to provide the pupils with a broad, creative and stimulating schooling, with a particular emphasis on developing their independent life skills and confidence. Differentiated learning and cross curricular topic teaching is used to ensure that all pupils are encouraged to realise and reach their full potential. Specialist teachers and in-house therapists add depth and breadth to our curriculum, in addition to providing invaluable resources. Pupils are encouraged to learn through investigation and much of the curriculum is hands on to enable all types of learners to access the curriculum. T'Mimei Lev/Yismach Lev is a school with strong Jewish Values where community and tolerance is encouraged.

The school works in three major areas. Firstly, for special needs children within the community our school provides a warm and nurturing environment where each child is able to fulfill their potential. Secondly, we provide respite to pupils who have struggled in mainstream school with behaviour issues or a new diagnosis. This respite period enables us to help those pupils and their families with the necessary paperwork and structures to enable them to return to mainstream schooling.

Finally, we provide education and qualifications, Yeshiva/Sem experience, life skills and career preparation for young adults who would otherwise have no other way to access these services.

We target support via specialist practitioners and projects, those in PRU settings, young people with disabilities, young carers, young men and young women, and young people missing from home.

42nd Street's dedicated disabled young people's physical practitioner works with young people with a range of developmental and learning disabilities and provides individual therapeutic support. The practitioner also supports young people to feel and be more independent and to support their connections within the wider services and opportunities in the wider community. 42nd Street is passionate about inclusion and ensuring accessibility for all. A young person's needs are identified at the referral stage, and they will ensure that they are able to deliver the right service for a young person in a way that is accessible for them. 42nd Street will source sign language interpreters where relevant.

About:

Our service works with adults with learning disabilities, adults on the autistic spectrum and adults with physical disabilities and is available those aged 18 to 65. Some of our members also have mental health issues.

We provide high quality accommodation and support to enable people to live successful, safe and healthy lives in the community.

Some people have their own flats, others live in shared accommodation. We also provide support to people who are living at home with parents/carers. Support ranges from full time cover including staff members sleeping in overnight, to a few hours a week depending on the needs of the individual.

In addition to helping people with domestic tasks (such as cooking, cleaning, shopping and budgeting) we offer a holistic service. Working in partnership with the Friendship Circle we find our members jobs, training and learning opportunities and ensure they have access to fulfilling social lives. We ensure our members have access to the rich religious and cultural life of our Jewish community.

This includes customising our service to meet the different levels of religious belief and observance of each individual member. This includes responding to the distinct needs of the Charedi community.

Area of eligibility:

Service is available to all areas of Greater Manchester and North of England.

How to access:

Our service can be accessed by self, family or professional referral.

After our initial informal assessment, the relevant Council Adult Services Department will undertake an assessment of the individuals needs and determine how many weekly hours of support they are entitled to receive. They will then provide the necessary funding to enable us to provide this support.

A School/ College can access our service as above.

How to access:

Local Authorities undertake a financial assessment as part of their assessment of needs. The assessment is of the means of the individual needing the service not their family. Depending on the outcome of this assessment individuals may be asked to contribute to the costs of their support.

We are registered with the Care Quality Commission and have approved provider status with relevant local Councils.
